

WHO SHOULD BE HAVING THE PORN- PREVENTION CONVERSATION WITH OUR KIDS?

Department of Education

The concept of signing a waiver to allow educators to speak to their students about online pornography is a bridge too far for almost all parents.

Department of Justice

Until laws are broken, Law Enforcement cannot intervene. Content creators aren't breaking the law; children watching are not breaking the law.

Department of Health and Human Services

We're just beginning to study this. They will conduct studies that will take years to determine the damage and results before making a declarative statement.

Faith-Based Organizations

Studies conclude that shame and "out of date" teachings deter faithful practitioners, causing them to leave their faith-based establishments.

“ I get it, it's uncomfortable. I would have been incredibly uncomfortable if my father had started talking to me about it. But I was much more uncomfortable when I was sexually assaulted and I thought that that was okay. ”

Young female, "Sarah", speaking to camera during an interview conducted by The Third Talk®